Pavement Maintenance

Pavement Maintenance

Proper maintenance of existing asphalt surfaces is essential in the Midwest's climate, where extreme temperatures, moisture and UV rays accelerate oxidation and start the deterioration process of your paved surfaces. At Dunn Company, we've been meeting these challenges since 1971, with an array of products, services and techniques designed to stand up to even the most demanding requirements.

Seal Coating

Seal coating is applying a thin coal tar or asphalt emulsion-based surface treatment used to help preserve and improve the look and texture of existing asphalt surfaces. Typically applied on a regular basis (every three – five years depending on traffic), in order to maximize the life of paved surfaces.

Provided the asphalt is in good condition, an application of sealer will help protect the asphalt from further deterioration, and can add years of life to your investment. A quality sealer will greatly improve the overall aesthetics of pavement and additionally, it will help retard oil and gas spills, and increase overall pavement flexibility.

Dunn Company uses only the highest quality sealer products, and has the equipment and know-how to make sure you get the finest results available. Whether your needs are residential, commercial, industrial or recreational, our flexible schedule assures a quality job at your convenience.
